

Five Star Certified Program

If your business goals include efficiency, adaptability and growth within today's fast-paced marketplace – then your business needs the right technology knowledge foundation. The Five Star Certified Program brings proven “tools of the trade” designed to support our channel program members. These tools are the result of collaboration between a global leading technology consulting group and Document Solutions and Services (DSS).

This multi-level program is the first of its kind to be offered by a manufacturer to aggressively educate its dealer community. Unlike other programs where the focus is only on the sales staff, this program involves every level in the dealership, allowing the dealership to realize its potential by giving it the tools to succeed in today's demanding document handling industry.

The Five Star Certified Program was designed with the needs of “best-in-breed,” forward-thinking professionals in mind. It provides a strategic advantage to participating dealers through the gaining of knowledge in the key channels and business trends, receiving industry certifications and specialized training. Through access to subject matter experts - members will be well-equipped to overcome market challenges and accelerate growth.

We offer the industry's broadest and most complete portfolio of software solutions, appliances, development tools, certification programs and services. The Five Star Certified Program includes resources, tools and benefits described in this document to enable our members to offer best-in-breed solutions, which offer an enhanced value addition to our intelligent hardware.

Mission Statement

Strengthen our dealers' ability to differentiate themselves in their respective markets by providing innovative document solutions training and knowledge to create exceptional value for our mutual benefit.
